Sasha is a noob v2

Description

On the borderline of insanity, Sasha, after trying to solve BRICKGM and failing a few hundred times, decided to take things into his own hands. United with his equally nooby friends and family he created his own task. This time he won't have people laugh at him for not knowing programming and being a noob. Putting things into perspective he stared into a giant abyss that is spoj for a moment, then decided to create problem with name BRIKCGM. Up until now, nobody notice poor little Sasha. Then it came your time.

Step into the evershining light of spoj. Annihilate everything Sasha stands for. Step onto the scene and crush his nooby friends. However you are able to. Anywhere he is, whatever he does, he will always be a noob.
